FOREWORD

"Call unto me, I shall answer you. Surely those who are arrogant to worship me will surely enter hell humiliated."

(Al Qur'aan 40:60)

"And remember your Lord by your tongue and within yourself, humbly and in awe, without loudness, by words in the morning and in the afternoon, and be not among those who are neglectful."

(Al Qur'aan 7:205)

The role of du'aa and the continuous remembrance of Allaah in the life of a Muslim cannot be sufficiently emphasized. The teaching of and instruction in the Qur'aan and Sunnah bear testimony to this. To ensure that human beings become inclined to them, its merit and virtue has been mentioned in no ordinary measure.

Du'aa has been described as worship in both the Qur'aan and Sunnah. To exclude du'aa from your daily routine implies not maximizing the opportunity to worship Allaah. Rasoolullah ﷺ has stated that du'aa is the essence of worship. How gracious of Rasoolullah ﷺ that he has taught us a du'aa for a number of situations. Not only will we be worshipping Allaah, we will be increasing our worship. Is worshipping Allah not the ultimate purpose of our creation?

Rasoolullah ﷺ has taught us to seek from Allaah even something as insignificant as a shoelace. Du'aa very powerfully illustrates the relationship between the Creator and created. The Creator has control over everything; He dispenses what, why and how. On the other hand, the created cannot obtain anything even ordinary needs.

Du'aa also facilitates the continuous remembrance of Allaah. We are reminded by Rasoolullah ﷺ to make our tongues moist with the remembrance of Allaah. Du'aas for various instances facilitates its easy accomplishment.

Including a book that contains du'aas in the curriculum of our learners is a purposeful attempt to inculcate in them the desire to ask from Allaah for goodness in all situations and constantly remember Allaah.
