Reading Comprehension

Boudicca

Who Was Boudicca and What Was She Like?

Boudicca was a British queen. She fought against the Romans.

Boudicca is believed to have:

- been very tall;
- had long, auburn hair;
- been scary to be around;
- had a fierce look in her eye;
- had a stern voice;
- worn a thick, colourful cloak;
- worn a large, golden necklace.

When Did She Live?

Boudicca is thought to have lived between AD 30 and AD 60.

What Is Boudicca Famous For?

Boudicca's husband was called Prasutagus. Prasutagus was the king of the Iceni people. When her husband died, Boudicca led the Iceni people in a battle against the Romans.

What Exactly Was Her Name?

Did you know...?

Boudicca and Prasutagus had two daughters but nobody knows what they were called.

There have been lots of different spellings of Boudicca's name throughout history. The first spelling was written by Tacitus, who spelt it both as Boudica and Boudicca.

It is thought that somebody who copied Tacitus's work in 1624 might have accidentally spelt her name as Boadicea. Her name has even been spelt as Buduica, Voadiciea and Bunduca!

Nobody alive today knows exactly how Boudicca's name would have been said. Even if Boudicca herself could tell us, she would probably not have known how to write it down because not many people could read and write when Boudicca was alive.

Most people now agree that her name is pronounced as Boo-dih-cah.

Did you know...?

The name Boudicca is thought to come from the Celtic word 'boudā' which means 'victory'.

What Happened to Boudicca?

Nobody knows exactly what happened to Boudicca. Some people think that Boudicca drank poison so that she would not be caught by the Romans. Other people think that she became poorly during the battle.

Did you know...?

There is a statue of Boudicca in London near Westminster Bridge. The statue is called Boadicea and Her Daughters. The bronze statue shows Boudicca and her two daughters riding in a chariot which is being pulled by two horses. Boudicca has a spear in her right hand.
