How To Make a Plastic Bottle Floating Turtle?

Materials

- Empty Soda Bottle
- Craft Foam
- Yarn Or Twine
- Button

Tools

- Scissors
- Hot Glue Gun
- Markers
- Craft Knife
- Needle

Method

First, cut the bottom off of a plastic soda bottle.

When you have the bottom removed from the soda bottle, place the bottom on your craft foam and draw around it to create your turtle's shape.

Draw around the bottle for the shell and then add in your legs, tail and head.

Cut out your turtle from the craft foam.

Glue the bottom of your bottle onto the middle section of the turtle that you drew on to the foam. You want the cut off edges of the bottle to be glued to the foam.

With your yarn or twine, attach the bottle onto the foam by crisscrossing the thread over the bottom of the bottle so that it will stay in place. This also gives it a bit of design.

Draw on some eyes and a mouth on the head. You can also add some toenails if you want,

Let your turtle in water and watch it float the day away.
