

English Homework

Spring 2 Week 2

Complete the work - IDIOMS

Match the idioms to their correct meanings and write out the matching pairs.

Idioms	Meanings
She's burning the candle at both ends.	I want a word with you (about a problem)
He's pulling the wool over her eyes.	It's pouring with rain.
He's leading you up the garden path.	I suspect something is wrong.
It's raining cats and dogs.	He has made a fresh start.
I've got a bone to pick with you!	He's trying to fool you.
I can smell a rat.	They paid too much money for it.
They paid through the nose for it.	She's working day and night.
He has turned over a new leaf.	He's keeping a secret from her.

Now write some sentences containing these idioms.

Identify the idioms

Can I identify Idioms?

I felt over the moon because after feeling under the weather for so long I now felt on top of the world again. It all began on a day when it was raining cats and dogs. I felt like I was losing my marbles because someone had bitten my head off for no reason. It was later in the day when I tried to get to the bottom of it and I began to see the light. My friend hit the nail on the head when she said that the other person had got her knickers in a twist. She then said, “Keep your hair on.” And went on to suggest she turned over a new leaf so that more people liked her.

Word of the week

VILLAINOUS

WHAT DOES THIS WORD MEAN?

USE IT IN A SENTENCE.

Spellings for the week

- chef
- stories
- women's
- bicycles
- famous
- serious
- pleasure
- chemist
- colleague
- scissors

Use these words to write a short story.